

Premed and Medical Student Collaboration

Health fairs usually take several committees of people to plan and recruit volunteers for the event. Planning can be a long and draining process, so in order to facilitate this process, often times the premed and medical students can work together on different aspects of the health fair. Not only do they learn from each other, the event will also be potentially more influential.

If you are a Pre-med...

Don't be afraid to contact the medical AMSA chapters in your region! Even though medical students are busy, some of them are passionate about minority health issues and they would love to help you!

- Contact the Medical Regional Director, who can help you contact the regional medical student chapters, <http://amsa.org/AMSA/Homepage/About/NationalLeadership.aspx>
- If you wish to collaborate with other premed chapters, you can contact the Premed Regional Director.
- If you are interested in REACH programming, you can contact the REACH Grassroots Leadership coordinator- Lindsay Martin-Engel, reach.grassroots@amsa.org. She can put you in contact with REACH regional coordinators.
- If you have a great idea that you think would benefit other premed chapters, contact the Premed Programming Team leader- Deb Hall, premed.chair@amsa.org

If you are a Medical Student...

Go ahead and contact the premeds chapters in your region, they would love to work with you and maybe provide some necessary resources for the project!

- Contact the Premed Regional Director, who can help you contact the regional premed student chapters <http://amsa.org/AMSA/Homepage/About/NationalLeadership.aspx>
- If you wish to collaborate with other medical chapters, you can contact the Medical Regional Director.
- If you are interested in REACH programming, you can contact the REACH Grassroots Leadership coordinator- Lindsay Martin-Engel, reach.grassroots@amsa.org. She can put you in contact with REACH regional coordinators.
- If you have a great idea that you think would benefit other medical chapters, contact the VP for Program Development Ben Goold, vppd@amsa.org