

The American Medical Student Association represents physicians-in-training and their efforts to best serve the public.

AMSA is committed to:

- Improving health care and health care delivery to all people.
- Promoting improvement in medical education.
- Involving its members in the social, moral and ethical obligations of medical professionals.
- Assisting in the improvement and understanding of world health problems.
- Contributing to the welfare of medical students, premedical students, interns, residents and post-MD/DO trainees.
- Advancing the medical profession.

AMSA members have aspirations AND take action. Build a better today and tomorrow by getting involved in issues like student debt relief, patient safety, health care reform, AIDS awareness, global health initiatives, medical professionalism and much more.

AMSA leaders have identified four aspirations to help focus member efforts and activism.
